

Words By Me

Here I sit, wondering, can I write?

Who cares, just me?

But why care, what purpose does it serve,

Vanity, the need to be?

What great words do I write?

Simple, three letter words, easy to understand.

Or complex words with lots of meaning,

And hard to spell, for a reason?

Will I portray a message in my words?

Or do I just let the words flow?

What purpose will the words serve,

who will know?

Who will judge me on my craft,

Will they care about my need?

Will they understand all the things I want to say,

Can I do it, we'll wait and see.