

It's a Mistake

The rally cry is being heard
Around the country in nine words.
"take from the rich and
Give to the poor"

How did it start?
Didn't they earn their way?
Studying hard in school,
Making their way?

Was it when some started flaunting
It at us, on TV, and in the magazines?
Reality shows, you wanted us to see!
Really!

Expecting us to admire you,
Just because you have most everything,
And can buy whatever you don't have,
And not have it put on lay-away!

Athletes who make insane dollars,
More money in a year,
Than most make in a life time,
And expect to be admired!

Yes, they worked hard, that we understand
But don't give us the line,
That they need to make so much,
For just one game, insane!

It's all right to make a lot of money.
But don't shove it in our face,
And expect us to pay your sponsors,
So you can keep up your pace.

I'll never have what you have,
And it's a mistake, for you to think,
I'm entertained seeing you,
Stick it in my face!
