The middle class is disappearing
In every state of the Republic,
Each one falling, as in harmony,
Beating out a tune, one by one.

In concert they are working together
Democrats and Republicans.
One pulling to the left, the other to the right,
Destroying the middle class, in this fight.

Greed, power, and corruption dictates their decisions.
Lies and empty promises, is what they give us.
How long do they think this can continue?
It is a sin, as awful as lust!

If a certain party's platform is to help the poor,
And they accomplished it.
What need would those souls have then,
To support that party, they need no more?

If another certain party believes in letting big business,
Lead the way, create jobs, and let the country thrive.
Why is there so much disparity between,
The rich and the poor?

If we don't agree with the political way,
We're uninformed, ignorant, prejudiced,
Mean spirited, and awful souls.
Truth be told, we're just angered, by the lies they've told!

I feel myself fading away, nothing more to give.
I'm falling and feel I can't get up.
Will I be too proud to game the system?
Will I just give it all up?

It relates to both sides, the right and the left,
Pulling by both parties, from the middle, it's a sin.
Until there's nothing to be taken,
It's all gone in the end!
